Fantastic strides have been made in chemistry and the science of atoms in the past 20 years. They have provided an approach to the secrets of nature that heretofore was inconceivable. In his ceaseless efforts to wrest nature's secrets, Pierre Gilson of France has gone far beyond mere imitation. He has discovered nature's way of producing the finest quality Emeralds, Turquoises and Opals and has duplicated these methods in his laboratory. Gilson Created Gemstones are so like nature's originals that it takes a highly skilled Gemologist to distinguish one from the other. Gilson Created Gemstones... man's answer to nature... make the impossible, possible. They permit all to enjoy the beauty and fascination once limited only to those who could afford nature's most sought after gemstones. Ask your jeweler to show you Gilson Created Gemstones in exquisite settings.
